New QSL Grower Rep Members

Alf Nucifora and Owen Menkens have been appointed as QSL Grower Representative Members.

Mr Nucifora will represent the Tully milling region and replaces Tom Harney, who recently retired from cane farming. Mr Menkens will represent the Queensland Cane Growers Organisation (QCGO), following the retirement of former QCGO Chair Paul Schembri.

QSL Grower Representative Members are the voice of cane growers from across the state, with 19 ‘elected holders’ representing the growers located in their local mill area, with an additional two appointees representing the Australian Cane Farmers Association and QCGO.

As well as being called upon to vote on key matters of importance at QSL general meetings, including the Annual General Meeting, QSL’s Grower Representative Members are a vital communication link between QSL and growers throughout Queensland. Not only are do they provide direct feedback to QSL on behalf of the growers in their region, they also play a pivotal role in QSL’s regional engagement activities and the dissemination of QSL information and updates.

Elected holders serve 3-year terms. However, should an elected representative need to stand down before completing their full term, QSL can appoint a replacement member in consultation with industry. The next QSL Grower Representative Member elections will be held in 2023.
